

Jewish Community Housing for the Elderly Partners with CJP's Jaffa Society to Create Monthly Magical Intergenerational Shabbat Programming

Golda Meir House tenant Sandi Solomon made a new friend recently when Alexandra Olander visited her building, one of three sites built and managed by Jewish Community Housing for the Elderly.

Alexander's mom is a member of the Jaffa Society, sponsored through the Combined Jewish Philanthropies. Each month, young families involved in Jaffa come to the Newton-based Golda Meir House to share a Shabbat celebration with tenants. It's an opportunity for three generations to spend time together: lighting candles, singing songs, and, like Sandy and Alexandra, getting to know one another. Come welcome Shabbat with your family and the seniors at JCHE! For more information about JCHE, contact Sarah Ovadia at 617.912.8486. Contact Sami Sinclair at 617.457.8736 for information about CJP's Jaffa Society.